Another issue, another set of pristine articles, another effort where we have fulfilled our promise of promoting the insight of research and review among the global dental fraternity.

It has been more than 3 years since IDJSR has been in publication. Our last issue has been the Special Periodontology Issue, which has been a landmark, where we outperformed ourselves and proved that IDJSR is here to stay and to make a mark.

What makes IDJSR Volume 3 Issue 3 special is that now we have our Impact Factor. JournalRate.org has calculated and assigned an impact factor of 0.963 to the journal and it has fuelled a humongous amount of motivation to the editorial board to take it further to indomitable heights.

Mentioning over and over again that we strive to maintain the journal’s standard as an ‘International Journal’ in true sense, has become redundant now. Still we feel pride in declaring that Volume 3 Issue 3 has articles from 4 countries (India, Pakistan, Tunisia, Zambia) making it the 1st issue to have an article from Zambia.

The real test for us, however, would be to act as an effective academic and scientific support system to the millions of dental students, academicians and researchers across the globe. And for that, your reviews, comments and criticisms are utmost welcome.

Happy exploring!
